Getting to school — on time?
The countdown.

10, 9, 8, ...

"What do you mean the five minute bell rang four minutes ago?"

7, 6, 5, ...

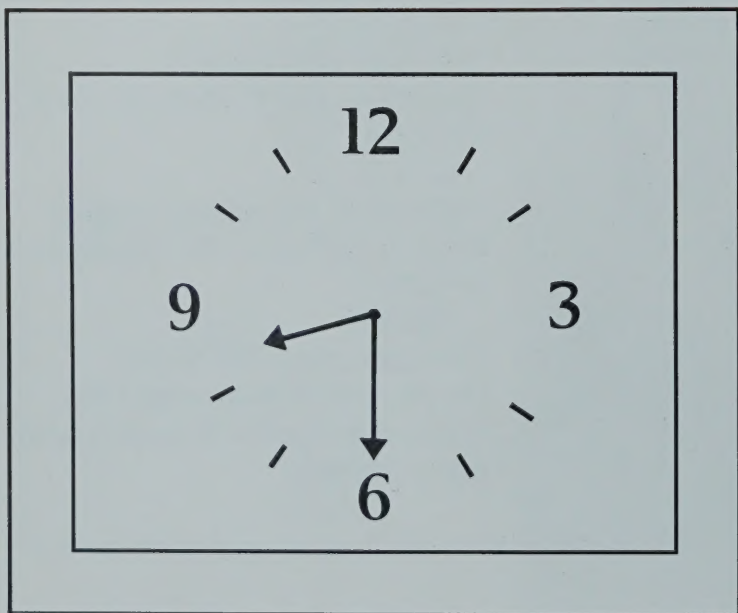

"My lock won't open!
I've got to get to Math on time for once."

4, 3, 2, ...

"Why does my locker have to be in English and my first class in Math?"

RINGG!!

"I'm late again Mr. Smith?
Do you mean that wasn't the five minute bell? I thought I was early, honest!"

Clock watching 101 ...
But there were good parts of class too:
keeping in time,
catching up,
spending time together.

"Even if we are later occupied with more important things, even if we fall into misfortune, still let us remember how good it was here once, when we were all united by a good and kind feeling which made us, perhaps, a little better than we were."

Dostoevsky

11:30

Rush hour, or rush twenty minutes:
diving for tables,
scrounging for chairs,
waiting fifteen minutes for hot lunch,
eating in five.
The food is bad,
always was, always will be.
"The times they are a 'chargin'"
But the cafeteria remains the same.

Crowded halls.
Messy lockers.
Grabbing for books,
Yelling "hello" to a friend,
Dodging to class.
No time to linger.
The bell rings,
A few stragglers run to class,
and the hall is empty.

1:15

Time's up and we're out!
The day is over,
At last!
Or is it?

2:07

3:00

Most NHS students don't spend their afternoons passing the time. After school is time in motion. Athletes off to soccer, baseball, volleyball, lacrosse ... Workers to offices, groceries, restaurants, stores ... Others to detention, chorus, yearbook, chorale ... Homework? It can wait.

SENIORITIS IS . . .

- ... making second semester your ultimate goal
- ... finally having free periods but having nowhere to go
- ... grazing
- ... taking a class so you can go on the field trips
- ... getting rejected for an upper lot parking permit
- ... trying to find your math class in the social studies department
- ... misguiding a freshman
- ... trading senior pictures
- ... meeting your college/career counselor for the first time
- ... meeting the representative from Any University so you can miss class
- ... applying to any college that doesn't require an essay
- ... having no fast food
- ... snow days
- ... thinking it's a Friday on Monday
- ... joining the entrepreneur club — just for the picture
- ... finally realizing you know more than most of your teachers
- ... learning your CEEB code
- ... sending applications Federal Express
- ... wondering how you ever did homework last year
- ... wondering where all your motivation went
- ... wondering if you ever want to find it again
- ... wondering if becoming brain dead would be a major change
- ... considering five minutes late on time
- ... getting busted for going to your locker during your free period
- ... moving into your mailbox
- ... worrying about the Senior Prom in September
- ... worrying about the Senior Prom in May
- ... counting credits
- ... doubling your album collection
- ... narcolepsy
- ... yelling at Mr. Morse in the caf
- ... not bothering to even make any New Year's Resolutions.
- ... the fear of being followed into the bathroom by a guy with a tie
- ... the fear of rejection
- ... rejection
- ... ACCEPTANCE!
- ... letting everything go until five minutes after it's due
- ... nonexistent?!

Trying to Get It Together . . .

And Not Quite Making It!!

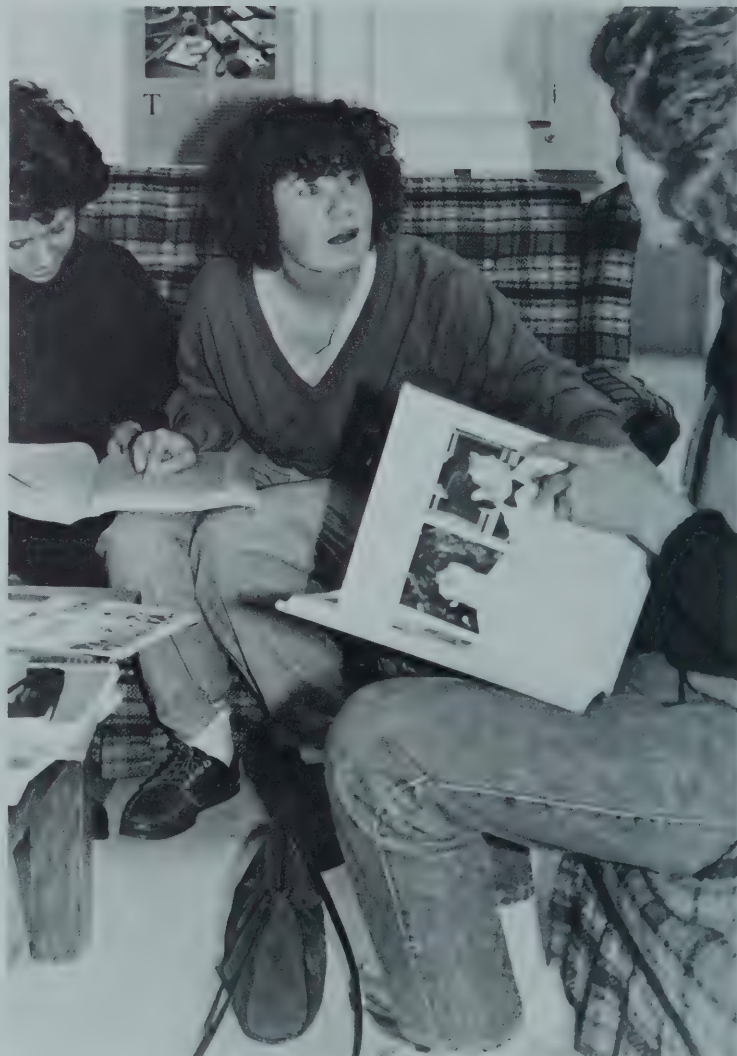

The Elevator? Go up the ramp, take a right, go past the pool, ...

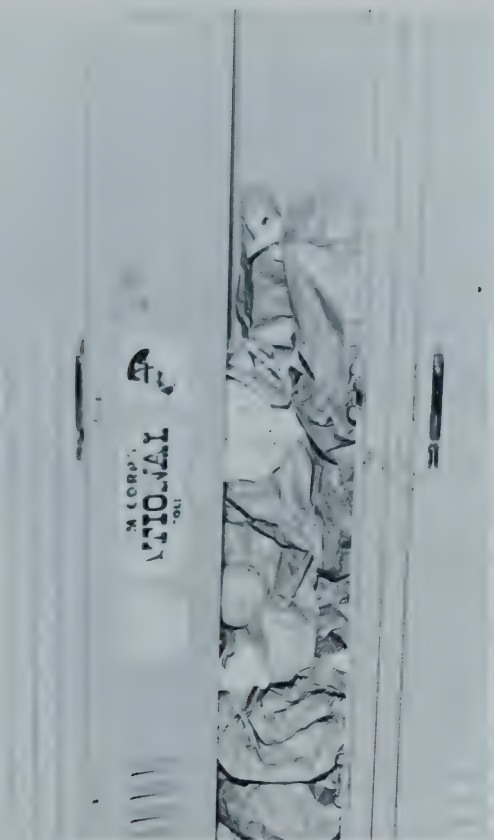

I'm nothing 'til that first cup of coffee.

I know that. What makes you think I don't know that?

What do you mean the application is due tomorrow?

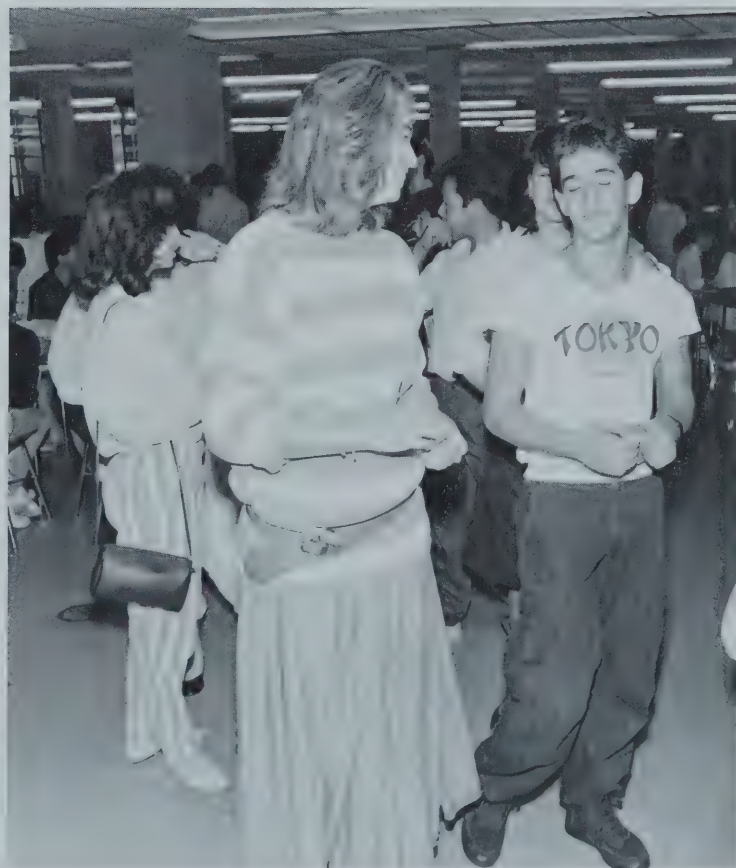

Lunch anyone?

Raise your hand if you're sure!

Mucha buncha mucha buncha ... Fritos go with lunch!

Smell that home cooking.

The blond prince
Came to me
When I was alone
On the beach, it was a sunny afternoon, and we built the most magnificent castle in the sand but the tide came in
And the castles dissolved.
Why do I always forget that castles are swept away in time,
and that princes
stay only one sunny afternoon?
Amy Breau

Francesca Ragno

I remember those days with you
When the passage of summer to fall
Was finally coming true.
The summer was desperately holding on Before it sank to its defeat.
The sun was slipping behind the mountains
As we watched silently on the beach
The lake was aglow with pink and red;
The loons screamed out a final cry —
And I cried on your shoulder,
I knew it was our last goodbye:
Like the summer you were slipping away.
You reached across me and picked up a stone,
And skipped it across the glassy water.
The ripples it made were solemn and alone.
As the sun slipped beyond the horizon,
I watched the ripples disappear.
The echoes of the loons subsided
And my eyes began to tear
We were just like the summer —
We were struggling to hold on,
And I knew I had to let you go
Because the summer had finally gone.

Oh, what a tangled web we weave
 When finally NHS we leave
 The graduation is complete
 Our mortarboards beneath our feet
 And gazing up into the skies
 The tears a-tumbling from our eyes
 But not from any grief or sorrow
 (After all, we have tomorrow)
 We weep because we see the light
 Of sun; and it is much too bright
 Our teachers kept us trapped inside
 Through spring, through autumn —
 Christmastide
 We spent indoors and slaved away
 In hopes that we would see this day
 And now at last it comes to pass
 We are the graduating class!

 Got to run, can't talk to you.

HARBOR CRUISE

Banquet cancelled due to "lack of interest?" Not this one. In the spring of '86 the class of '87 finally got it together and got together! And did we do it in style!

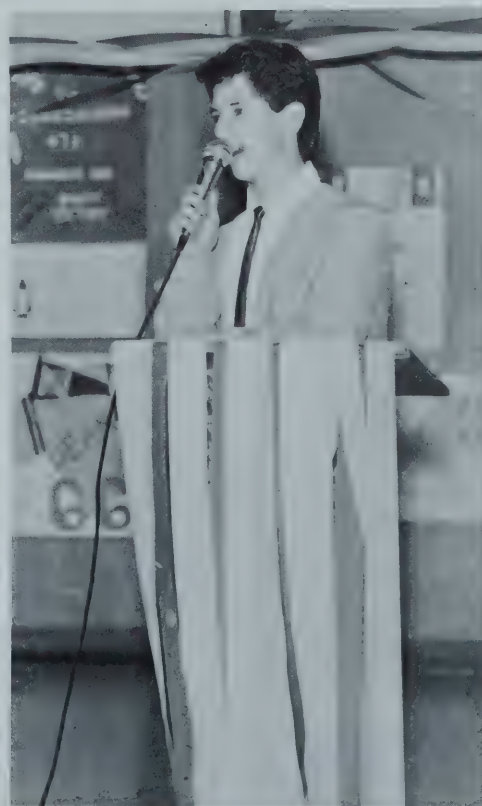

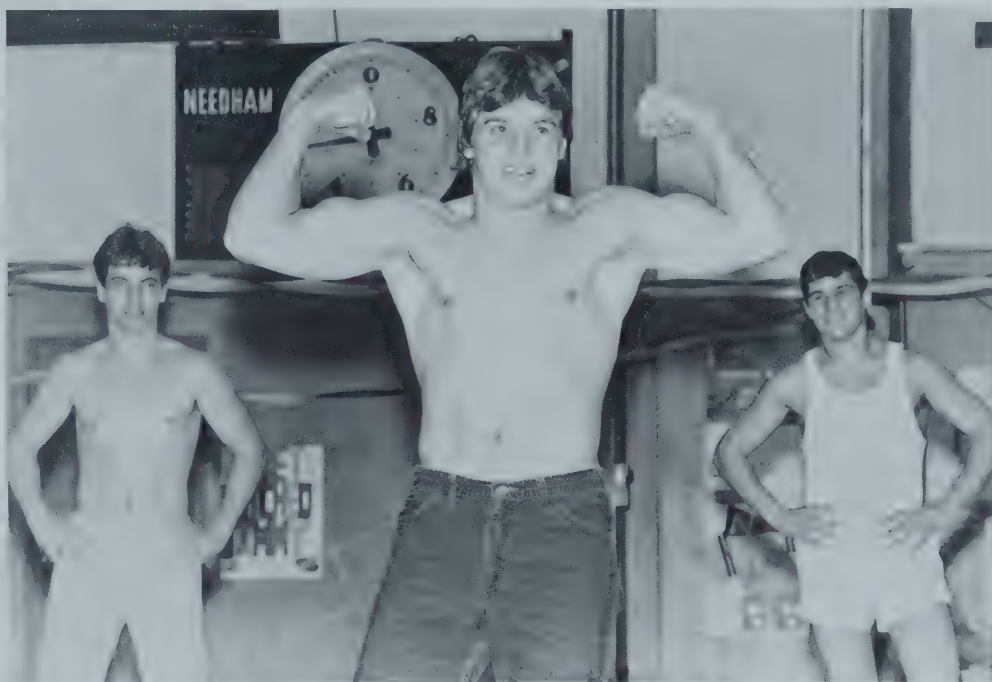

PEP RALLY

Tuesday, November 25, 1986, the high school had an unusual pep rally. It had music! It had cheers! It had rock videos! And it actually had pep!! New England Patriot, Trevor Matich, summarized The Wizard of Oz. The Miller Band sang?! Even the moms had "the Needham beat." Despite Jim Gagne's biceps we didn't win the Thanksgiving Day football game, but we did have a great time!

The class of '87 in '83, '84, '85, and '86. We've come a long way since then. Look at us now!

Don't be Dismayed at goodbyes
A farewell is necessary before
You can meet Again
And meeting
Again, after moments or Lifetimes, is certain for Those who are Friends.
